Welcome

Tonight's the night 2023 really gets going, as we host the What Car? Car of the Year Awards – our annual celebration of the best cars on sale.

However, this year's event is particularly special, because we're also celebrating the 50th anniversary of What Car? itself. Over those 50 years, the brand has earned the trust of UK car buyers, thanks to the thoroughness of its testing.

Indeed, to even be considered for a What Car? award, a car has to have been driven back to back with rival models, both on UK roads and at our private test track. Plus, we spend hours poring over data, conducting our own practicality, efficiency and range tests, and debating how well cars suit the needs of prospective owners.

This work wouldn't be possible without you, though, so we're hugely grateful for your support, both tonight and throughout the year. I hope you have a great evening and a very successful 2023.

Steve Huntingford Editor, What Car?

Designed for convenience, not compromise

zappi can operate as a standard home car charger, using power from the grid. It also has optional charging modes which use 100% green energy generated from your own home Solar PV system or wind generation.

Good luck to all the Safety
Award finalists tonight.
Picking a winner was tough.
But that's how it should be.

We are thrilled to see so many car makers continuing to prioritise motorist and vulnerable road user safety during times of great technological and economic change.

On behalf of Thatcham Research, I thank all carmakers for continuing to engage with Euro NCAP.

It's reassuring to know the cars on Europe's roads are the safest in the world and that the strides we are making today are laying the foundations for the safe, and therefore successful, introduction of Automated Driving.
